INTRODUCTION

According to legend, at Julius Caesar's expedition to Orient in 75BC, Nicomede, the King of Bithynia, presented him a large six-edged diamond and a luminous oriental legendary pearl, and after Julius Caesar's return to Rome, he hired craftsmen to engrave the diamond and legendary pearl on his own shield and sword, to demonstrate his prominent position and imperial power. Inspired by the legend, designers from Four Seas Furniture got the inspiration from "six-edged diamond", "oriental legendary pearl" and other elements which were symbols of imperial power, and designed the noble 228 series furniture.

Four Seas furniture 228 series inherits the mood of European history and civilization, overflows the pride of Roman Empire, contains the illustrious and pride of Caesar the emperor. From a detail to a taste, noble furniture is a house and home culture, a kind of living style, a mood and an embodiment of people's status. When the quality of life is enhanced to a level, you will feel that the details of life should be elegant and full of beauty. The decoration style, which is magnificent and implicit, the color and arrangement which is elegant and refined, allow the space display the temperament which is elegant and exquisite.

228 series Shai Furniture carries the history of European civilization, filled with the pride of the Roman Empire, storing the distinction and pride of Julius Caesar, showing soul of traditional royal culture and modern aristocratic life, moreover, the design of the 228 series also contains the symmetric and asymmetric structure. The key elements of "six-edged diamond" and "oriental legendary pearl" which are symbols of imperial power, matched with plant leafage including Royal Oak, Rococo shell, vertical incising, Chinese penniculum, tubulation and others commonly used in European aristocracy furniture, form main foration. Hollowed with heavy and complicated leafage and carving on solid wood, and encoated with gold and platinum, the main structure of furniture are created by advanced supporting equipment and manual labor, presenting a rich level, the gentle rhythm and splendid color, and showing extraordinary contour.

The essence of King, the essence of god.
